

Alaska Division of Insurance

Going Live with NAIC's State Based Systems!

What does this mean for you?

The Alaska Division of Insurance will go live with a new back-office software solution, State Based Systems (SBS), on November 4, 2013. As the regulatory system of choice by the Alaska insurance regulators, we encourage the industry to take advantage of our online tools. Click here to learn more about SBS

Changes for Licensees

- Email Renewal Notifications - In lieu of the post card reminder notice, the division will implement email notification reminders beginning in January 2014 for licenses due to expire in February 2014. You are encouraged to electronically file your renewal via nipr.com to avoid additional processing fees. Please review and confirm your email address is correct using the SBS Email Address Maintenance tool.
- Partial Renewals - A partial renewal occurs when a licensee who holds multiple active license types/classes, e.g. producer, surplus lines broker, adjuster, etc. and is subject to license renewal elects not to renew all license types/classes. Our laws do not permit partial renewals and a licensee must either submit renewal fees for all license types/classes or cancel those types/classes they no longer wish to hold. If a licensee elects to cancel the license or a type/class of authority, written notice must be filed.
- License Printing - Licensees will be able to obtain a PDF license via the SBS License Print or Online Licensee Services (OLS).
